TO ADVERTISERS.

The BLOOMFIELD RECORD is an excellent medium for those who desire to bring their business prominently to the notice of our people. We unequivocally assert and can MISS JOANNA B. HARVEY, ove that the actual subscription list and the average weekly circulation of this paper is more than double that of any paper - claiming to have a circulation in this township. The RECORD, moreover, is the official local newspaper of the place. It is the only paper published and printed in the place. It has a well appointed Job Print. ing Office connected with the newspaper department, which contributes materially to the income, thus enabling the publisher to contract with advertisers at very low rates.

The Daily Graphic balloon enterprise came to a lame and impotent conclusion on Friday afternoon last. Everything promised well, and the gas was going in at the rate of thirty thousand feet an hour. Without a single warning sign of ruin, without any marked increase in the easy wind, without a movement or poise to announce collapse, suddenly a rift opened in the crown of the balloon, close by the valve. The gas, struggling to get free, immediately expanded the gap, and, with a running sound of tearing and ripping, but with no explosive outburst, the great balloon split from the top downward, fell in and northward, collapsed in an instant, and lay proge as if beaten down. Three hundred thousend feet of gas were spilled in an instant. There was one great'shout from the multitude, and then a rush for the postrate balloon. The ring was broken in, and the growd made room for itself everywhere. The police soon partially cleared [the ropedin space, and then Mr. Steiner, Messrs. Goodsell and Donaldson gathered together, conferred and made explanations. Messrs. Goodsell announced that the thing would not be given up so. The burst balloon should be immediately examined and, if possible repaired. If it could not be made serve, a new one should be made, of silk if necessary, and completed at the earliest possible day. The broken balloon had not failed from inferior material or want of care in construction, but from the enormous pressure of wind on so immense a bal-

Barnum on Balleoning.

P. T. Barnum the irrepressible showman, publishes the following characteristic letter in the Bridgeport Standard :

EDITORS OF THE STANDARD: In reply to a host of letters from all parts of the country requesting me to do so, I wish to say that if a balloon does not cross the Atlantic the present antumn, I will expend fifty thousand dollars, if necessary in having that feat attempted, and if possible accomplished as early next year as may be, provided one or more aeronauts can be found in America or Enrope, who have faith in its successs, and will heartily attempt its accomplishment.

Mr. Queen, the English balloonist, who made upwards of six hundred ascensions, told me in London, twenty eight years ago, that he had no doubt the Atlantic Ocean could be safely crossed in a balloon in from two to three days, and he offered to attempt it if I would provide the funds. I am already in correspondence with several popular aeronauts in France and England, and although I shall prefer to have the honor given to an American, I have no doubt that the great feat will be accomplished within a twelve-month. As at present advised, I shall have the silk material manufactured in China, put together and prepared under the directions of scientific men in London, an experimental ascension made from the Sydenham Crystal Palace grounds, then bring the balloon to America, and make the Transatlantic trip from New York. I trust the public will believe that if I put my hand to the plough I shall not look back. Respectfully Yours,

P. T. BARNUM. Waldemere. Bridgeport, Sept. 15, 1873.

Ex-City Treasuerer Courtland Sprague, of Brooklyn, has been placed under arrest at his residence, on a warrant issued by Judge Moore, for malfeasance in office and the embezzlement of the city funds to the amount of $148,000. The affidavit was made by District-Attorney Britton, and the warrant was placed in the hands of two of the court officers. They went to Mr. Sprague's house, and found him sick in bed under the care of his physician. He will probably find friends enough to give bonds for his ap-

Real Estate.

BLOOMFIELD, N. J.

Country Home for Business Men and Others.

BLOOMFIELD is located four miles from the centre of Newark, and twelve miles from New York City, is on Elevated Ground, with as beauti'ul sites for Homes of families as any within a radius of 25 miles of New York. Its location is healthy beyond dispute.

Facilities of Travel to Newark and to New York are unsurpassed: the Newark & Bloomfield Road (D. L. & W. to New York) with 22 trains daily; the Montclair (to New York direct,) with nearly as many; the Watchung, nearly completed; nine depots on the three roads and so located as to accommodate all parts of the town. A Horse Car Bailroad to Newark, cars running every half hour.

Educational Privileges.

Bloomfield was the pioneer township for FREE EDUCATION in this State. We have now as fine a Public School as any in New Jersey-the buildings, Grounds, etc., as well as the conduct of the various departments-High School, Grammar and Primary-are all that can be desired.

Our Churches

embrace the principal denominations, and all are in a flourishing condition. The moral and social status of the community is of a high order.

Improvements, &c.

The permanent mapping of the town for streets and squares is being effected. The sidewalks are being generally flagged or planked. Gas is already introduced. Commodious and artistic dwellings are being erected. Improvements in opening and grading new streets are being pushed forward, not, in a wholesale, speculative manner, involving heavy taxes, but commensurate with the wants of the community. The local taxes have been lower and will continue to be lower than most of our neighboring townships. Bloomfield has never been bonded; neither for railway nor any other purposes. Her citizens are enterprising and progressive, but hold to the principle-Pay as you go. There are numerous stores and workshops of various kinds, several first-class manufactories, none of them, however, of a character detrimental to health or morals. It has also a live Weekly Newspaper, devoted to the interests of the town collectively.

Real Estate,

Improved and unimproved is offered at prices below those of other towns the same distance from the large cities. Property here has steadily advanced in value for the last in fifteen years. The causes which produced that advace have just now greatly augmented. Intelligent business men can judge at once whether this town is not Sare as a place of investment, independent of the wish for a pleasant and desirable home. Improved and unimproved lands in great variety may be found upon application to our Real Estate
